For total wellbeing

Rejuvenate your mind, body and soul with the sensation of five massage therapists working together

Do you often feel tense and suffer from tired, aching muscles after a busy day? If so, a soothing massage in the comfort of your own home could be just what you need. Combining the principles of Eastern health philosophy with the latest Japanese technology, the Sasaki 5 Series state-of-the-art massage chair provides a full-body massage.

Unwind at home

The Sasaki 5 Series chair provides a whole range of massage programmes that work concurrently, so it will feel like having five therapists massaging you at the same time. The massages include:

Head massage: The chair incorporates the world's first head massage system. Airbags surround the head and neck to simulate a professional masseuse.

Arm and hand massage: Both armrests are equipped with specially designed airbags, providing a kneading air pressure massage to revitalise the arms and hands.

Back massage: The infrared detection sensor in the Sasaki 5 Series chair automatically scans your body shape. It precisely detects your shoulder height and the acupressure points in your back to achieve the best massage position for you so that it can deliver a personalised massage more effectively.

Waist, buttock and thigh massage: Airbags located in the backrest massage the waist, ease away muscle fatigue, while airbags in the seat massage the buttocks and thighs and also stimulate the intestines by vibration massage.

Leg and foot massage: Airbags positioned on both sides of the footrest massage your knees, calves and feet for instant relief. Pressure nodes located at the bottom of the footrest, effectively stimulate the vital reflex zones in your soles. This gives you the benefits of reflexology and helps promote circulation.

Music-synchronised massage: The innovative massage programme lets you enjoy your favourite tunes in synchronisation with a soothing massage. Simply plug in your music player and enjoy through the speakers on the chair's backrest.

First-class relaxation

Other benefits and features of the Sasaki 5 Series chair include:

- An easy-to-use system – just press start on the remote and you're automatically moved into the recline position to enjoy the range of massages available. Once you're familiar with the different features, you can opt for manual control to personalise your relaxation session.
- The ergonomic design – when the chair is reclined, it balances your entire body in the right position to fully benefit from the massage.
- Four built-in speakers.
- The sound system can be used to access a hands-free speaker on most mobile phones.
- LED lights on the side of the chair phase through a series of soothing colours to enhance the relaxing ambience in your home.
- A choice of four colours – black, ivory, rose red and latte.
