Relaxation for life

Would you love to have a regular massage, but don't have the time to get to a salon? The SASAKI 7 Series therapeutic massage chair will help you wind down, chill-out and rejuvenate mind, body and soul – in the comfort of your home

If your idea of heaven is wrapped up in the perfect massage, take a look at the SASAKI 7 Series state-of-the-art massage chair.

Combining the principles of Eastern health philosophy with latest Japanese technology, it is designed give you a full therapeutic massage experience from head to toe.

Total rejuvenation

The 7 Series therapeutic massage chair employs a cutting-edge air massage and roller system to simulate the techniques used by a professional masseuse. Every muscle in your body – from your head, neck and shoulders down to your calves, ankles and feet – is firmly massaged by strategically placed air bags, which help to relieve stiffness and improve blood circulation.

Equipped with the world's most revolutionary 3D Human Touch Massage system, the 7 Series offers five massage techniques: rolling, shiatsu, tapping, kneading, and combined kneading and tapping. Alternatively, select the full body stretch mode which replicates the principles of Thai massage, stretching and folding the spine and legs, to give a treatment that can be more effective than a traditional massage.

The chair's ergonomic design, which is the culmination of intense research, supports your body in the right position to fully benefit from the massage, even when the backrest is reclined. While second generation infrared sensors automatically scan your body to ensure you're always in the optimum massage position. There's also an adjustable armrest, which can be moved outwards to accommodate a wider range of body shapes, that also incorporates an arm massage unit to work on your arms and fingers. While pressure nodes in the footrest stimulate the reflex zones in the soles of your feet, to give a reflexology treatment – bliss...

First-class relaxation

As you'd expect, the SASAKI 7 Series chair is easy to use. Just press start on the remote and you're automatically moved into recline to enjoy the whole series of massages available.

Once you're familiar with the features, you can opt for manual control to personalise your relaxation session. LED lights on the side of the chair phase through a series of soothing colours to enhance the relaxing ambiance in your home. There's a synchronised massage system, so you can enjoy your fave tunes, via the built-in speaker on the backrest, in time with the treatment. And if you need to take a call on your mobile, you can hook that up to the speakers, too.

The SASAKI 7 massage chair will help you relax after a hard day's work

Until now massage chairs have been effective, but not necessarily designed for the modern home. The SASAKI 7 Series is different – stylish, sleek and contemporary. It also comes in a choice of four attractive colours: ivory, latte, emerald and black. Put simply: the 7 Series provides the best experience and design you can get from a massage chair. Price, £7,000.
